Night of Lights
Chestnut Hill Conservancy’s public art installation “Night of Lights” illuminates Germantown Avenue for two-and-a-half weeks by using the commercial corridor as a canvas to highlight layers of area history. This free outdoor event is open to all ages and features archival images projected through storefront windows, as well as interactive activities such as Community Storytellers available by phone, games, prizes, and printed Pastports to guide visitors through the exhibition. Many shops and restaurants will stay open late. This event begins on Friday, October 9 and continues through Sunday, October 25th from 7pm-10pm.
